

St Andrews Economic Forum 2010

"Developing Africa: A Lost Cause or Rising Star?"

Welcome to the St Andrews Economic Forum 2010

On behalf of the University of St Andrews Economics Society, I would like to extend to you an invitation to the St Andrews economic Forum 2010. From 23rd to the 25th of April, hundreds of people and more than dozen acclaimed speakers will define the SAEF10: 'Developing Africa: A Rising Star or A Lost Cause?'

The St Andrews Economic Forum is a student-organised conference encouraging active debate on economic issues. It promotes an intergenerational dialogue between today's experts and future leaders.

This year, the forum will address development issues in Africa revolving around three core panels:

- Africa- A New Field for Microfinance?
- Foreign Aid- How to make it work?
- The Beijing Consensus - The New Scramble for Africa

For more information about attending speakers and the panels, please visit our website www.saef.co.uk

Competition for spaces is severe and places for the conference are strictly limited in order to allow for relevant interaction between participants and guest speakers. We want to prioritize the participation of relevant societies and departments of the most distinguished universities in the United Kingdom.

We know it is likely to be a long journey to St Andrews. However we are in a position of helping with travel arrangements and we have secured a range of accommodation at excellent prices as well as a number of social activities that will make your stay unforgettable.

The online application service will open from March 1st. should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us. For more information, visit our website at www.saef.co.uk, or for any other query contact us at general@saef.co.uk.

Kind regards,
